GARRISON FLAYS COLONEL'S SPEECH

Instructs Gen. Wood Nothing Similar Shall Be Permitted at Camps

T. R. MAKES STATEMENT

Declares He is Entirely Responsible for His Remarks at Plattsburgh Camp

HOLDS GEN. WOOD BLAMELESS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Secretary Garrison today telegraphed Major General Leonard Wood expressing his depreciation that opportunity was given at the citizen soldier camp at Plattsburgh, N. Y., for Colonel Roosevelt's sensational speech of yesterday and directing nothing similar should be permitted at any of the other camps.

Refers to Roosevelt's Remarks.

Secretary Garrison referred to Colonel Roosevelt's remarks on the military unpreparedness of the country and the attitude of the administration. His telegram to General Wood follows:

"I have just seen the report in the newspapers of the speech made by ex-President Roosevelt at the Plattsburgh camp. It is difficult to conceive of anything which could have a more detrimental effect upon the real value of this experiment than such an incident."

"This camp held under government auspices was successfully demonstrating many things of great moment. Its virtue consisted in the fact that it conveyed its own impressive lessons in its practical and successful operation and results."

"No opportunity should have been furnished to any one to present to the men any matter excepting that which was essential to the necessary training they were there to receive. Anything else could only have the effect of distracting attention from the real nature of the experiment, diverting consideration to issues which excite controversy, antagonism and ill-feeling and thereby impairing if not destroying what otherwise would have been so effective."

"There must not be an opportunity given at Plattsburgh or at any other similar camp for any such unfortunate consequences."

No Further Action Now.

Secretary Garrison said he had no further action now under contemplation. He said he had not discussed the matter with President Wilson and had no knowledge of the president's views. The secretary said he had not considered whether his telegram to General Wood would have any effect upon the general's record.

Secretary Garrison made public a portion of a letter from General Wood explaining the general's own speech on August 14th, which was called to them once of the war department.

Explanation Satisfactory.

The general's explanation was satisfactory to the department. The letter contained the following paragraphs:

"You, perhaps, have seen something of the articles in the various newspapers. It is needless to state that there was no discussion by me, nor has there been any by any officers here, of international affairs, or anything that might come under the president's prohibition. The talks to the men have been on purely technical subjects, explaining the use of arms, methods of raising them, sanitation, etc. My own talk was absolutely on technical lines and had to do with the methods of raising and maintaining armies, voluntary systems, etc., and the usual strong endorsement of the national guard, into which I think a great many of these men will go."

Roosevelt Takes Responsibility

New York, Aug. 26.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt advised of Secretary Garrison's telegram to Major General Leonard Wood late today, said that he was entirely responsible for his remarks at Plattsburgh. He also said he considered the Secretary had no right to criticize General Wood.

Colonel Roosevelt's remarks were contained in a statement. It read as follows:

"Nearly three weeks ago it was announced in the public press, the statement being carried prominently in every big newspaper, that in addition to President Wilson and Secretary Garrison some scores of private citizens had been asked to go to the Plattsburgh camp where it was expected they would speak to the men. Among the names mentioned in addition to my own were those of former President Taft, Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell. It is, of course, impossible that Secretary Garrison can have been ignorant that we were asked and if he desired General Wood to notify us in advance what we were expected to say or leave unsaid, it was clearly his duty to direct the general accordingly."

No Right to Criticize General.

MILITARY PARADE BEFORE GOVERNORS

DEMONSTRATE PREPAREDNESS FOR ACTIVE MILITARY SERVICE

Gov. Walsh Heads Parade as Commander-in-Chief of State's Forces—Executives Discuss Capital Punishment.

Boston, Aug. 26.—A demonstration of the preparedness for active military service of the Massachusetts quota in the National Guard was given before the visiting governors and a great throng of citizens today in a parade through the streets of the city of the entire state troops.

Tomorrow they will consider the general topic of preparedness and defense.

Governor Walsh headed the parade as commander-in-chief of the state's forces. The visiting governors and former governors were in automobile.

Each infantry regiment had its machine gun company and after the foot soldiers came the field artillery, the naval brigade, signal and hospital corps and a long baggage train.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, retired, were with Governor Walsh and the visiting governors and former governors on the reviewing stand while the guardsmen marched past.

Before the parade the governors held their fourth session for the presentation and discussion of papers, the day being devoted to the treatment of prisoners and capital punishment.

A statement by former Governor Cole L. Bleasie, of South Carolina, that "When mobs are no longer possible, liberty will be dead," called forth a brief response from Governor Goldsborough, of Maryland, who said:

"Such a statement is unchristian. If capital punishment is wrong how much more so is capital punishment at the hands of a mob."

Papers advocating abolition of the death penalty were read by Governor W. G. Hunt of Arizona, and Governor Edward F. Dunne, of Illinois. Others who favored abolition of the death penalty were former Governors Haynes, of Maine, and Adams, of Colorado.

TAFT ARGUES FOR REASONABLE REGULATION OF CAPITAL

San Francisco, Aug. 26.—Former President William Howard Taft in an address here today before the San Francisco Commercial Club argued for "reasonable regulation" of capital and cautioned labor against seeking discriminatory legislation.

He deviated once from this line to discuss political parties, paying his respects to "the leader of the great movement which is not a machine but an organization, with leaders and not bosses."

"With a keen witted people you don't have to be kicked twice to be made to understand, this movement soon will become a part of political history," he said.

PLEADS FOR PREPAREDNESS.

Boston, Aug. 26.—Governor Moses Alexander of Idaho, the only member of the Jewish race ever elected governor in this country, pleaded for preparedness at a reception in his honor tonight.

Three weeks' public notice, made no objection to my coming, they stopped themselves from any right to criticize General Wood because I was coming or because I did not submit my speech in advance to the administration for approval.

"I am, of course, solely responsible for that speech and until yesterday General Wood had no more idea than Secretary Garrison what was going to say. In the speech, not only did I never mention the president but I never mentioned the administration. I spoke purely of the nation, of the people of the United States.

Value Lies in Object Lesson.

"I spoke on the assumption that the men who paid their expenses in order to go to this camp were citizens deeply interested in the welfare of their country; men who know that the greatest value of this camp lies not in the month's training to each of the two or three thousand college students and business men, but in the object lesson afforded in teaching our people what this nation should do for all her sons by teaching them in time of peace how to do their duty by the nation in time of war.

"If the administration had displayed one tenth the spirit and energy in holding Germany and Mexico to account for the murder of American men, women and children that it is now displaying in the endeavor to prevent our people from being taught the need of preparations to prevent the repetition of such murders in the future, it would be rendering a service to the people of this country.

Attendance Not Required.

"General Wood issued orders that attendance at my speech was not required of any man that it was optional to come or not, orders which at once reflected the fact that he had no responsibility for the speech. It was half the line of tents and one half the audience was made up of men and women from the surrounding country."

The colonel seemed perturbed at the idea that his own remarks might reflect in any way upon the record of General Wood.

TWO DEVELOPMENTS LESEN TENSION

Expect Declaration from Berlin that Will End Source of Discord

AMPLIFIES STATEMENT

Bernstorff Says Communication Was Intended to Imply Merchantmen Will Be Warned

LANSING IS ENCOURAGED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Two important developments today in the relations between the United States and Germany further reduced the tenseness of the situation and were taken to foreshadow a declaration from Berlin on the subject of submarine warfare which would eliminate that source of discord between the two countries.

Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, called upon Secretary Lansing and informed him that the statement presented Tuesday by direction of the Berlin foreign office, saying there was no intent to cause loss of American lives when the White Star liner Arabic was destroyed, was intended to imply that German submarine commanders had been ordered to attack no more merchantmen without warning.

Conditions of actual warfare were duplicated, so far as possible. In a little observatory on Sands Point, six miles away, an officer sighted the mortars, computing by mathematical formulae the range, the angle of fire and all the other intricate factors to be considered. The artillerists working in the gun pit in blue overalls, spattered with grease saw nothing of the target but followed the commands of this officer, relayed to them by the battery commander who received them by telephone.

Instead of at a hostile fleet the gunners fired at a triangular sail on a bobbing float at the end of a 500 yard hawser let out by a tug.

Observers saw it as a dot on the horizon. Its actual measurements were ten feet high by ten feet wide at the base. The flight of the projectiles could be followed without glasses for the first few seconds but so far away as the target that when the projectiles fell the great columns of water spouted up appeared but a few feet in height.

With searchlights playing on the tiny float, the firing was repeated tonight. How many hits were scored will not be computed, it was said, for several days.

ARTILLERYMEN FIRE AT MOVING TARGET

LONG-MUTE 12-INCH MORTARS AT FORT TOTTEN FIND TONGUE

Send Eighteen 700 Pound Projectiles Climbing Three Miles Into the Sky at Speck of a Target 13,000 Yards Off Shore.

New York, Aug. 26.—The scream of shells and the roar of cannon rolled over Long Island Sound today. The long mute 12-inch mortars at Fort Totten, which guards the northern entrance to New York harbor, found tongue and sent eighteen 700 pound projectiles climbing three miles into the sky at a moving speck of a target, 13,000 yards off shore.

Conditions of actual warfare were duplicated, so far as possible. In a little observatory on Sands Point, six miles away, an officer sighted the mortars, computing by mathematical formulae the range, the angle of fire and all the other intricate factors to be considered. The artillerists working in the gun pit in blue overalls, spattered with grease saw nothing of the target but followed the commands of this officer, relayed to them by the battery commander who received them by telephone.

SOLDIERS GUARD BORDER BRIDGES

Continue Precautions Against Attempts to Execute Uprising in El Paso

BANDITS TAKE RANCH

Delegation of Del Rio Citizens Asks for More Troops to Guard Against Incursions

TAKE MEASURES FOR DEFENSE

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 26.—Doubled guards of soldiers tonight are posted at the international bridges, railroad viaduct and other strategic points as a continuation of the precautions of General John J. Pershing, commanding the Eighth Infantry brigade, against attempts to execute a rumored uprising. According to the police Mexicans bought heavily of fire arms at local shops today.

Bandits Take Ranch.

San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 26.—Mexican bandits today took possession of the Henry Eads ranch, 28 miles from the Rio Grande in Jim Hogg county, after driving off the foreman and other ranchmen, according to information which reached the owner here tonight.

Mr. Eads also learned that in a fight with Sheriff Thompson and Ranger Pat Craighead, one Mexican was killed and another wounded.

An appeal for additional United States troops for Jim Hogg county was made yesterday by county authorities.

Another appeal for protection reached army headquarters today when a delegation of Del Rio citizens asked for more troops to guard against incursions across the Rio Grande by armed Mexicans. A troop of cavalry now is stationed at Del Rio but the delegation said they deemed this insufficient as more than 1,500 strange Mexicans have reached Del Rio in the past three months.

Take Measures for Defense.

Virtually every ranch in the border country has taken measures for defense against possible raids from Mexican bandits it is said by travelers reaching here. Elaborate precautions at Santa Gartrudis ranch in King county, the million-acre estate of Mrs. Henrietta M. King, one of the richest women in America include artillery, a searchlight and armed patrols. Two cannon, of the muzzle-loading variety, have been mounted on top of the ranch house. It was said and under the glare of the searchlight cowboys keep constant guard every night.

The ceremony was a simple one, though the Hitchens home was prettily decorated. A bank of ferns and cut flowers stood in the parlor and this pair approached unattended as Miss Annabel Crum played the wedding march from Lohengrin. Miss Crum played Schumann's "Traumerle" before the wedding party entered and "Love's Consolation" by Spaulding during the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of white rice cloth, shirred and hand decorated.

In the dining room, where an ample wedding supper was served, pink and white was the color effect used.

A large white wedding bell, with colored ribbon streamers, surrounded the table. At the cutting of the cake, Mrs. E. B. Liter found the ring. Mrs. J. A. Crum, the darning needle, Mrs. Kate Stultz acquired the dime, Miss Cora Rudisill found the thimble while the miniature man hidden in the cake was the prize of Miss Annabel Crum.

A handsome array of presents attested the popularity of the bride and groom.

Guests from away were Mrs. Kate Stultz and Mrs. Florence Kirker, Moweaqua; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hitchens and son, Byron, Ringwood, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crum and son, Keith, Girard; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crum, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Berry and Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, Jacksonville, and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Murry of Virginia. Sixty guests were present and the occasion was a most happy one.

The groom is a farmer by occupation and is a young man of integrity and business ability. He was educated in the schools of Litterberry and attended Illinois college. The bride was born and reared in Litterberry and is known for her many accomplishments. She has marked musical talent and is blessed with charming demeanor.

WILL ATTEND REUNION OF ALLEN FAMILY.

A party from Chapin and Wincheser was in the city Thursday evening en route to Chicago to attend the Allen cousins' reunion at Glen Park, Ill., near Chicago. Members of the family will be present from several states and indications were that Colorado would be represented especially well. The Morgan and Scott county representatives expect to return the first of the week. In the party which left for Chicago via the 9:45 o'clock Wabash were Bernard and Alden Allen, of Chapin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bean, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Allen, Winchester, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McCullough, Riggston.

Probate Court.

In the probate court Thursday, the resignation of George Flynn as guardian of June, Salavanna, Alice, George and John Flynn, was accepted. The petition for the appointment of Charles B. Graff to fill the vacancy thus made was allowed.

REPORTS NOT SUBSTANTIATED.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Secretary Garrison revealed today that for months the war department had been receiving letters from sections of the country reporting alleged German activities, such as the masking of big gun foundations in tennis courts and building foundations. No evidence had been discovered, the secretary said, to substantiate any of the reports.

APPROVES WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 26.—Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh of Pennsylvania approved woman suffrage in a speech here today. He added: "I believe woman in Pennsylvania will be given the right to vote after the next election."

The New York Times Annalist Index Number on wholesale prices of 25 leading articles of food for the first week in August, 1915, was 145.17, compared with 13.7 for the first week in August, 1913, under Republican law. The index Number for the year 1914, was 146.7 compared with 139.98 for the year 1913.

Men and women of an earlier generation have a clear recollection of "blackstrap" molasses, a byproduct of the manufacture of cane sugar. It was a common article of food half a century ago but the children of today scarcely know it by name. But the European war has suddenly created a large demand for it for use in making denatured alcohol, which in turn, is used in making smokeless powder. A fifty per cent increase in the price of black-strap has been a great help to cane sugar producers and has further impressed upon their minds that fact that the European War alone has saved them from the disastrous consequences of a Democratic tariff consequence.

The state board of health in a special bulletin just issued gives warning about the danger of typhoid fever and points to various simple methods of prevention. Incidentally the statement is made that the United States is far behind European countries in the fight made against typhoid and this fact is a sad commentary on the carelessness we display in using sanitary measures.

Small pox cases are rare indeed and yet everybody knows about vaccination as a preventive for this disease. It has been proven beyond a doubt that typhoid fever can also be prevented by vaccination and there is not one person in ten knows this fact. With all our advances in other regards we certainly ought to be able to keep pace with France, Germany and England in this matter of successfully combatting disease.

The old saying that it is not a good plan to change horses in the middle of the stream applies to local governmental affairs. Under the new plan of government, the commission form, the city could not be said to have even reached the middle of the stream. This is not the time for a change and the success of the advocates of the aldermanic form of government at the polls Sept. 21 will occasion a great expense to the city by a series of other elections and will embarrass the city in many ways.

The aldermanic form was in force here for a great many years and the new form has been effective but four. To change now would indicate a fluctuating, vacillating citizenship, unwilling to give a fair trial to a local government plan which has many arguments in its favor. Good business judgment dictates an adherence to the commission form of government at the present time.

A Famous Lecture.

In the "Interesting People" department of the September American Magazine appears an article about Russell H. Conwell, the famous Philadelphia preacher and educator who has delivered one lecture, "Acres of Diamonds", over five thousand times. He has appeared all over the world. The proceeds from his lectures he devotes to sending poor boys through college.

Dr. Conwell delivered this lecture in Jacksonville about twenty years ago and there are many here who still remember it. The lecture emphasizes the advantages and blessings one may find all about him if he will open the eyes and look near at hand instead of seeking for these attractions far away. The whole lecture breathes a spirit of optimism and points the way to be satisfied with one's own lot in life.

The illustrations are pointed and impressive and it is because of all these facts that the lecture has held its popularity through so many years and lingers in so many memories.

The magazine writer says: "Doctor Conwell has delivered this lecture over five thousand times. All the way from the Dardanelles to the Yangtze, from Cairo to Saginaw, he has been flinging out its optimistic philosophy as prodigiously as the harvest moon pours down her silver flood. One year he delivered it two hundred times; another, he filled half a hundred dates so near to Philadelphia that he returned home each night."

"He devotes all of his lecture proceeds to assisting poor students through college. Usually one delivery of the lecture will pay a student's expenses for a year."

The 1916 Chautauqua.

The management of Jacksonville's successful chautauqua have announced that the plans for the 1916 chautauqua depend wholly upon the people. If a sufficient number of residents of Jacksonville and Morgan county pledge their support for 1916 by subscribing for 4,000 tickets at $1 each there will be a chautauqua in 1916. Otherwise this year's enterprise will be the last for some time to come. The directors of the chautaqua have devoted a great deal of time to the enterprise without remuneration of any kind other than their contribution to the general welfare of the community. Their belief is that the chautauqua is not only of interest but of benefit to the community and they hope that arrangements can be made for next year. There is no reason, however, why they should plead or beg for the support of the enterprise and its continuance is simply a question of the interest shown by the people.

Notwithstanding the very bad beginning this year's chautauqua had from a weather standpoint, the total attendance thus far is much in excess of that last year. The program is unusually expensive, yet the management has been such and the interest shown by the public so great, that it can be stated now that this year all expenses will be met and in all probability there will be enough surplus to wipe out the deficit from last year. The speakers who are making rounds of chautauqua engagements have been surprised at the extent of the program here and have marveled at the $1 price, for in their experience they have never known a ten-day chautauqua to be furnished at such figure.

The way to have the enterprise continued is to inform the directors of your desires in that regard and to sign for the number of tickets that you are willing to take in order to make certain that there will be a chautauqua in 1916.

ATTRACTIVE PRICES CAUSE WINTER BUYING IN AUGUST

Exceptional Opportunity to Secure Clothing and Furnishings Even Below End of Season Figures.

That people in Jacksonville and the surrounding territory have faith in advertising statements made by Lukeman Bros. was fully evidenced when their closing out sale of extensive lines of clothing opened Thursday. All day long the store was crowded with customers. Purchases were made quickly for the bargains were so apparent. Usually closing out sale of men's clothing and furnishings at this time of the year means an effort to clean up on summer and light weight goods but Lukeman Bros. announced a sale of new seasonal goods for fall and winter wear and the stocks displayed yesterday gave positive evidence of the truth of the sale announcement.

Lukeman Bros. recently secured the exclusive agency for the high class Hart, Schaffner & Marx line of clothing and to make room for extensive purchases of these goods and in accordance with an agreement with the house it became necessary to clear the shelves of large purchases previously made of a number of dependable lines of clothing and furnishings. The goods offered are as already stated, this season's styles, placed in stock only a few months since and the very radical price reductions made for quick stock moving delighted the hundreds of customers yesterday.

It is unusual to sell winter overcoats this month but many of them went to first day of the sale. Sweater coats, cape heavy gloves and other goods of the same class are included in the offerings, which many can now tell you are priced most exceptionally. It is no wonder that people are buying the winter goods which they will need within a few weeks time, when the saving of so many dollars is possible. On one table every article of apparel is priced at ten cents. The offerings include principally boy's wearing apparel and many mothers bought yesterday in preparation for the school days. The goods on this table will be replenished from day to day so that everybody can have a change at the offerings. The sale as a whole promises to be the greatest ever.

MORTUARY

White.

Mrs. Ruby D. White, died Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of Miss Sophia Opperman, 519 South Kosciusko street. Some three or four years ago Mrs. White suffered a fall on the icy pavement and since that time had not been well. For the past few weeks she had gradually declined until the end came.

She was born in Maine in 1832 and at the time of her death was 83 years of age. She was married to J. C. White at the close of the Civil war and they have always made Jacksonville their home. Mr. White died January 14, 1892. She is survived by one brother, Newell Davis of Kansas City, Missouri. Mrs. White was a faithful member of Grace church, having joined under the pastorate of Rev. Earl Cranston. Until the time of her injury she had been a great worker in the church. She was a woman of lovely character and kind to those about her.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Connors.

Richard Connors, formerly a resident of Jacksonville, died in Springfield at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. "Dick" Connors came to Jacksonville in 1890. He secured employment at the old Jacksonville Southeastern car shops as machinist. Connors was considered one of the most skilled workmen that was ever employed at the local shops. He worked there for several years. In 1891 when Jacksonville organized a ball club and had a park south of John Goltra's house at the corner of South Main street and the Vandalia road Connors pitched several games for the team. He was accounted a good amateur pitcher. He remained with the club until the advent of Piez, Dooms and others who were secured from St. Louis. Connors was about 46 years of age and was born in Mt. Sterling. The remains will be taken there for burial.

WILL SING IN SPRINGFIELD.

The State Register of Thursday contains a picture and complimentary notice of Mrs. Helen Brown Read of this city. Mrs. Read has been engaged to sing at First Presbyterian church in Springfield the coming winter. She sang there last year and her work so pleased the congregation that she was re-engaged for this year.

SENATOR KENYON CHIEF G. A. R. DAY ATTRACTION.

Interesting Chautauqua Sessions Thursday With Social Welfare Topics in Afternoon and Program of Music and Magic at Night. Baby Contest Scores.

G. A. R. DAY PROGRAM.
8:30—Kindergarten work.
9:30—Boys' and Girls' club.
10:30—Concert—Patriotic airs and war music, Jeffries band.
11:30—Address—Hon. Jasper P. Darling, of Chicago, patriotic instructor G. A. R.

Afternoon.
1:30—Farmers' tent—Karl Gruenewald.
2:00—Concert—Jeffries' band.
2:30—Lecture—Hon. W. S. Kenyon, of Iowa, United States senator.
3:45—Piano recital—Miss Edna Sheppard.
4:00—Address—Farmers' tent—George M. Coffey.

Evening.
7:30—Concert—Jeffries' band.
8:00—Stereopticon lecture—Peter McQuade, European war pictures.

With reminiscence of the past and admonition to patriotism by Comrade Jasper P. Darling, discussion of problems which confront a nation at peace by W. S. Kenyon, senator from Iowa, and shadowing of the great conflict across the waters in the war pictures of Peter McQueen, the Jacksonville chautauqua presents a fitting program for the day set apart to honor the Grand Army of the Republic. The forenoon concert by Jeffries' band will begin the distinctive G. A. R. program. "Our Patriotic Duties" will be the subject of Mr. Darling at the conclusion of the concert. Jeffries' band will open the afternoon program also. Senator Kenyon will speak, after which appropriate musical numbers will be rendered by Miss Edna Sheppard. "The Work of the County Advisor" and "Formaldehyde on the Farm" will be the subject of the farmers' tent addresses by Mr. Coffey and Mr. Gruenewald.

On Jacksonville day appeared speakers and entertainers who did the name of the city credit and the crowds, though somewhat less than the day preceding, more than filled the big tent. Miss Hinrichsen, as a Morgan county resident, was heard with especial interest and Mrs. Grace Wood Jess, though fourteen years away from her native city, was heard with great pleasure. Daughters of R. W. Campbell, of Jacksonville, and E. T. Doyle, of Murrayville, tied for first place in the baby contest, announcement of which was made in the afternoon.

Mrs. Grace Wood Jess.
A special feature of Thursday's program was the singing of Mrs. Grace Wood Jess, formerly of Jacksonville, but now of Springfield, Illinois. Each passing year Mrs. Jess widens her popularity in the musical world. Recently she has achieved special attention by her work on the Pacific coast. Mrs. Jess possesses a voice of especial charm and beauty and her interpretations always please. She found ample opportunity to show her ability in the children's songs, "The Camel's Hump," "Aun Sally" and "The Busy Child," all of which elicited a hearty encore from the audience. "Old Folks at Home" was given with the band accompanying and as an encore she sang that ever delightful song, "Anne Laurie."

Mrs. Jess appeared on the program in the evening; she gave a splendid interpretation of "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" and the aria from "Sampson and Delilah." As an encore to her evening songs she gave "Love's Old Sweet Song." Miss Carle Dunlap most acceptably acted as her accompanist. Her program follows:

Afternoon—"The Camel's Hump," Kipling, German; "Aunt Sally," Horace Clark; "The Busy Child," Grace Wessels; Shadow March, Del Tigo; Old Folks at Home.

Evening—the evening program included the following:

Aria from "Sampson and Delilah," "My Heart at Thy Voice" and "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling."

Tate, "Walden the Magician."

Dana Walden left behind him Thursday night a well pleased audience and his cleverness of execution had people guessing from the first. His Egyptian chest mystery was especially mystifying. Mr. Walden scored an undoubted hit with his chapeaugraphic impersonations and natural indeed were his impersonations of Buffalo Bill, Napoleon Bonaparte, the suffragette, and "Teddy."

Mr. Walden has been on the platform for ten years. His appearance here was the last entertainment in a period of one year and three months during which Mr. Walden has not been off the platform for more than four days. He expected to leave for his home in Fresno, Cal.

The Jeffries concert was featured by two solos by Homer Reid. Mr. Walden appeared at the conclusion of the solos by Mrs. Jess.

Miss Hinrichsen's Talk.

Miss Annie Hinrichsen gave a highly interesting talk on the subject of county dependents. She first told of the history of the state board of health and what it had accomplished and then passed on to conditions in this county. The co-operation between public and private charitable organizations in Morgan county is gratifying. In far too many counties this is not the case. In this county the expense last year for outdoor relief was $10,396.96; this is, from March first, 1914, to March first, 1915. This does not include the mothers' pensions of which there are seven in the county.

"The idea of a pension to mothers of needy children is good and its success depends on the manner in which the cases are investigated and the wisdom with which the aid is disbursed. In some counties it is a failure and in some a partial success. I came across one case where a mother with five children was getting $12.50 monthly. I asked the county official if that was enough and he said they had an overseer to look after the matter and see that the money was wisely used and that official, for watching the woman spend $12.50 a month received for his services $40 a month.

"One county judge said it was not a success. They had four cases not worthy. I asked him if they had a suitable inspector and adviser and he said they had. He was the courthouse jailor.

Morgan County's Jail.
There are some worse jails than ours and some a deal better. A part of the structure is all right and a fit for use. It cost $4,854.61 to maintain last year.

The county almshouse is well equipped and remarkably well managed but the building is old and without much needed running water. Last year it cost $11,120.41 and sold some $3,000 worth of products. In general the management is to be commended but the county board should make some needed improvements.

The Pike county almshouse makes a profit and is a model, the only one of the kind in the state.

Our neighboring county of Cass spends $300 a year on each pauper and $15,000 for outside relief, in this respect the most extravagant of any county in the state.

In general conditions are improving but we need a tremendous awakening of the public conscience and a determination on the part of the people to have a better condition of things.

The speaker complimented Miss Weller for her efficient work and especially for the manner in which she inspected and passed on the applicants for mothers' pensions.

DR. Dodson Speaks.
Dr. John M. Dodson, dean of Rush Medical College, Chicago, gave an excellent address on child welfare, at 2:30 o'clock yesterday. He said in part.

"The care for the future is incidental to all animal creation. The squirrel lays away the nuts for winter and so do all wild animals have a care for the future and for their young. Our country is entirely too prodigal of its resources. Had our forests received proper care and attention with suitable enforced legislation there would be as much timber in the country now as there was a century ago. We deplete our soil and pay too little attention to the improvement of the human race. We spend plenty of money in other directions and how little for man. Of the eight hundred millions appropriated by congress for a year, but a little more than eight millions was devoted to sanitary and health securing causes and of that a million and a half was spent at the building of the Panama canal. If we are to conserve the human race we must begin with the infants. Heredity has much to do with the race. Legislation should stop the mating of certain ones whose progeny is almost sure to become a public charge or worse. The Duke family is a remarkable example of this where hundreds descended from a certain pair were either mentally unsound or morally delinquent.

PEORIA WOMAN TELLS EXPERIENCE

Mrs. W. L. McClellan, of Peoria, suffered torture from indigestion, gas, belching and other symptoms of stomach trouble. She spent large sums of money for doctors' advice and medicine. Still her condition did not improve. She found relief, wonderful, surprising relief in a drug store window. This is her story, as she tells it:

"I suffered from constipation and colicky pains that at times I was completely incapacitated for my household work. I saw a window display of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and decided to purchase a bottle, which I did. I have taken only one bottle and the results have been really wonderful. I have not had a pain in my stomach since, and let me say that for the first time in many, many months, two days following I have had a natural movement of the bowels. I feel I cannot say enough for the remarkable virtues of your remedy."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it; on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

FARMERS FIND MUCH IN PROGRAM THURSDAY

THREE EXPERT ADDRESSES IN SPECIAL CHAUTAUQUA TENT.

The Good Points of a Hog, by Bert Way in Forenoon Talk—
Successful Dairying Theme by Ed.
K. Slater—W. S. Corsa Speaks on
"Serum" To Interested Afternoon Audience.

With three talks by experts on topics related to the farm, the chautauqua program Thursday was of more than usual interest for the many farmers in attendance. Bert Way, the well known hog breeder, was heard in the forenoon. W. S. Corsa of White Hall and Edward K. Slater of the Minnesota Dairy farm gave afternoon addresses in the farmers' tent.

Mr. Way referred largely to personal experience, emphasizing the importance of starting right, with hogs that will "make good." "The Good Points of a Hog," was Mr. Way's subject.

"The Dairy," by Edward K. Slater, contained the experience of a man well versed in dairy knowledge and practice. Mr. Slater has been state creamery expert and state food commissioner for Minnesota. He spoke at 1:30 o'clock in the farmers' tent and was heard with undisguised interest.

W. S. Corsa told of serum treatment and its efficiency for use with diseases of hogs. He told how animals are immunized and discussed the theory of vaccination, in human beings as well as stock. Mr. Corsa is proprietor of the Gregory farm at White Hall and is a stock raiser of national reputation.

Address by Bert Way.

The all important hog was the theme of an address by Bert Way in the farmers' tent. He said, in brief:

"Twelve years ago I began to inquire about hogs and I attended the state fairs and paid especial attention to the animals that took the blue ribbons and I saw lots of good hogs and some not so good and the ones I thought the best failed to get the ribbons and I bought some that I thought were all right. In the course of years I missed several of the men whom I used to see taking prizes and I heard that they were down and out after showing hogs worth at the time $300. Then I decided that I needed a good herd hog and I noticed that some who had won ribbons were not on hand. I went to a sale in Iowa and bought two animals. One was 12 months old and cost me $300. The other was a six months old and cost $65. A year later I took the older one to the state fair and the people seemed to like him. I showed with five others and all took ribbons but mine but I had many inquiries from men who had seen him at the fair. I sold a good lot of his progeny at good prices and finally sold the hog for $200 and could have received $250. If I had asked it. I sent to Nebraska and bought a five months old pig, kept him 13 months and sold him for $200. I sent to Ohio and bought another and one of his progeny a year old weighed 520 pounds and sold for $175. I don't try to win ribbons but sell hogs at good prices. There is a great difference now in the hogs that win at the fairs. I saw one man who took a ribbon years before and said he was glad he didn't have the hog at the fair. I have made a good many sales, some as high as $325, and some as low as $20 and I could see but little difference and concluded that the farmers are better judges of hogs than I am.

Raising Fat Hogs.

"For an ideal hog we want one that will make good. Demand a hog for size and those which will fatten easily and early. "Big Osborne," the hog I sold first for $200 was fat at four months. In selecting a boar look for one that is well developed, has width and general development; that will fatten easily and early. Have one with good length which doesn't fall or drop in the back near the shoulders; has flat feet and good growth at the heart and avoid a long and narrow head; get one with good hams. Be very careful to get hogs with good dispositions else they will be slow to fatten. Avoid nervous animals or cross. In general pick a hog that has made good. See that the strain is prolific, deep in flank; well formed.

"I call your attention to two pigs here belonging to Charles Story. He bought at our sale a gilt for $31. She has had two litters and has realized $400 on them. I call your attention to two of a litter of twelve. One was a runt and two were lost. There are nine left and they are doing finely. These two are a sample of the lot. They were farrowed March first and will weigh about 25 each.

Care Needed in Feeding.

"Much care should be exercised in feeding. At first it was well enough to let the sow go a little hungry after farrowing and be sure not to let the pigs have too much. It is well enough to let them be a bit hungry for three weeks. For a boar which I didn't let run on grass I fed two ears of corn with some shorts and tankage but that is rather expensive feed for ordinary animals.

"For fattening the ordinary hog I want some clover and rape along with the corn but a thoroughbred needs better feed. I am inclined to favor vaccination as I have generally had good luck with it and when I failed it might have been due to bad serum. I generally vaccinate about weaning time when the pigs are three or four months old. I would not vaccinate hogs soon to go to market.

Last fall I sold fifteen pigs which went right into cholera infected districts and none had it. All hogs taken to fairs must be vaccinated."

Mr. Storm, owner of the pigs said it was bad to have a very low place for pigs to crawl under as it was likely to injure their back. He said if he had followed Mr. Way's advice regarding feeding he would not have lost two valuable pigs from the litter of twelve. Feed lightly, two parts meal to three parts of shorts and slop from the house.

Dairy Farming Profitable.

Edward K. Slater, of the Minnesota dairy farm, made an excellent address on dairying. He gave the experience of the state dairy farm in his state and offered much good advice. He said in brief:

"Dairying is not for the man with plenty of money and is not obliged to work but it is a fine thing for a man with small capital and who will use good judgment and is not afraid of work. It has very much to command it and for good reason. In the first place the right kind of a cow will on an average return $2 worth of product for $1 worth of feed and if she doesn't do this she isn't managed properly. A scrub cow is kept by a scrub man and I infer there are none of that kind here. There is no animal better than the cow and she should be cultivated especially by the young man starting in for his life work with small capital.

"It doesn't take such a great amount of capital to start a dairy. Get good cows and carefully test them for results. By all means get a good bull to head the herd. I would rather have a first class beef bull than a scrub of the milkers' variety. I know of successful dairies which are not composed of thoroughbreds by any means. The product of a cow may be increased 50 per cent by proper management in all respects. A cow must have good shelter, suitable feed and with great kindness. The cow is a sensitive animal; she is a mother and should be treated tenderly. I have known of a woman who could get much more milk from a cow than a rough man. Just try to see how much milk you can get from a cow after her calf has had all it wanted. She loves to give down for that but not for the one who is unkind to her.

What Feed to Use.

"How little judgment is used in feeding a cow. We feed a hog corn and on one meal to fatten him and yet many farmers will turn right around and feed their cows corn and expect them to do well as milkers. Look on the cow as a machine and then ask if the man who is to run it shouldn't have a license as much as the man who runs an engine. The engine may blow up which the cow won't do but she may dry up which will be disastrous. Bran, oats, some cottonseed meal, silage, alfalfa hay preferably and if not practicable then clover. She should have ground feed for best results; some corn and oats ground together will be good and not ask her to do the grinding and use little corn. I think much of a silo.

"Get the boy interested in the dairy and he will not want to leave the farm. Show him how to test the milk, weigh the feed and keep the accounts so as to ascertain the best cows to keep and you will see what good results will follow. In Freeborn county Minnesota, the population is mostly Swedes, Danes and Norwegians, and it has been said that if a man went to the bank to borrow money the cashier would examine the would-be borrower's feet and if they indicated the owner had dairy he secured the money, but otherwise he had to give security.

"In Carbondale, Ill., the banks are bringing in first class cows and selling them to the farmers at cost prices so as to encourage better stock. This is a fine move. Write to Hon. W. S. Matthews, Carbondale, Ill., and he will give all information and it will be valuable."

Mr. Corsa's Talk.

At the afternoon meeting in the farmers' tent Mr. Heintz said that the experiment of having a farmers' department at the chautauqua is a new one and though the conditions at the present time made farmers unusually busy the attendance is encouraging. He called C. S. Black, president of the Morgan county farmers' club to preside.

Mr. Black spoke of the good work being done by the various organizations and hoped it would continue to improve.

He then introduced Mr.

W. S. Corsa of White Hall, who took "Serum" for his subject and said in part:

"There are certain diseases incident to the human race which can not be repeated in the same person.

Small pox does not recur and the same may be said of some other diseases. This is true of cholera in dogs.

"A person properly vaccinated is not at all likely to have the small pox and so we may learn a lesson for treating the hog. Serum is obtained by injecting into an immune hog some cholera blood and from the animal the serum is obtained. In general when a hog is vaccinated a small amount of serum and a bit of cholera blood is used. If it takes, the temperature of the animal will rise. The capacity of the serum is decided by test tubes.

Testing the Serum.

"In order to be sure that the foot and mouth disease may not be spread all serum is now tested on calves before being sent out.

"I generally vaccinate pigs two weeks before weaning time. The value of the immunity of the milk of an immune sow is overestimated.

"When a man has had experience in vaccinating hogs or has assisted a veterinarian he may possibly get a license or permission to vaccinate his hogs himself but generally speaking, it is well to have it done by a professional. The cost varies somewhat with conditions but is between fifty cents and a dollar per animal.

"After hogs have been vaccinated they should be kept in a small pen for a month. We have a pen about twice the area of the farmers' tent and in it put fifty or sixty pigs after vaccinating them. Feed them little corn and plenty of ship stuff and slop."

to Face Indictment.

New York, Aug. 26.—An examination of Philip C. Wadsworth of Texas City, Tex., charged with using the mails to defraud on a gigantic scale by the formation of a fraudulent co-operative society, will take place before United States Commissioner Houghton today, in removal proceedings. Wadsworth was indicted in Atlanta, Ga., last May by a federal grand jury, and he was arrested here on August 6th.

Three years ago, it is charged, Wadsworth promoted the sale of the stock of the Cotton Growers' Cooperative Society of Alabama, a $50,000,000 corporation, with general offices in Atlanta. Wadsworth, according to the indictment, returned against him, represented that the corporation had made sufficient progress to warrant the assurance of a market price of 15 cents a pound for cotton. It is also charged in the indictment that Wadsworth represented to the cotton growers that because they had failed to come together they were "easy marks" for the manipulators who were robbing them to the extent of $120,000,000 a year.

It was stated that there was to be a bond issue of $200,000,000 and the total reserve was $250,000,000. The warrant on which Wadsworth was arrested was obtained on the Atlanta indictment. The letters and other literature of the society were printed in an attractive way and contained the names of the officers, of whom Wadsworth led the list.

The Atlanta indictment charges that the charter of the society had been fraudulently obtained, no part of its capital stock having been subscribed for when the application was made, and that it was never intended to have a bona fide capital stock of $50,000,000.

It was further charged that the representations made by Wadsworth who managed, operated and controlled the affairs of the society, in letters mailed at Atlanta, were false and with the intention of defrauding W. J. Speights of Buchanan, Ga., W. A. Lovett of Luthersville, Ga., H. A. Childs of Butler, Ga., J. H. Mizell of Buchanan, Ga., and other investors.

Another charge in the indictment is that Wadsworth in the literature sent through the mails represented that it was intended to appoint in each of the counties of the cotton belt a superintendent and supervisor who were to be paid $3,000 each year and would have opportunities to make other profits.

The superintendent and supervisor, according to the indictment, were to be the leading farmers, business men and bankers in the 800 odd counties, and, acting as agents of the corporation, they would have the cotton placed in bonded warehouses and the growers would be paid promptly on the basis of fifteen cents a pound.

Three quarters of the payment to the planter was to be in cash and the remaining quarter in seven percent debenture 20-year coupon bonds and preferred stock of the society. Within two months of the formation of the society, Wadsworth announced, it is charged, that sufficient cotton was being collected to assure growers a market price of 15 cents a pound.

FOGGY DAY ALONG MAINE SHORE.

Elliot, Me., Aug. 26.—A reunion of the Fogg family has brought to this little Maine village many visitors from all sections of the country. From far off Spokane, Wash., William Stevens Thynge, a descendant of the Fogg pioneers, has come to address the many Fogs at the formal meeting tomorrow. The meeting is being held at the William Fogg Library.

Mrs. Iva Schultz, of St. Louis, is a guest of Mrs. H. E. Frye.

JUSTICE COURT.

Mrs. Annie Luttrell was arrested by the police Thursday on two warrants charging her with abusive language and disturbing the peace. The warrants were sworn out by Mrs. June Dunning. Justice Dyer fined her $3 and costs on each warrant.

PONDEROUS PERSONAGES—HENDRIK HUDSON.

Hendrick Hudson was a fearless navigator who sacrificed his life in the interests of geography and died a disappointed man because he wanted to find a northwest passage to China which wouldn't have been worth anything, and instead only succeeded in discovering New York, which teaches us that we should never be dissatisfied with our failures until we have had them assayed by posterity.

Hudson was an Englishman and was known as "Henry" and "Hank" by his boyhood playmates. He prepared himself to be a discoverer but the discovery business was slow in England, so he went over to Holland where they changed his name to "Hendrik", taught him to wear eleven-pants and gave him a life job roaming around the Arctic regions with flimsy ships manned by disabled crews.

Hudson made four trips to America while hunting for the northwest passage. On his first trip he accumulated a vast assortment of frost bites and chilblains

SENATORS TRIM SOX IN THIRTEEN INNINGS

WASHINGTON CAPTURES GAME BY 2 TO 1 SCORE.

Set New World's Record for Consecutive Innings Played in Three Games by Two Clubs—Detroit Takes Twelve Inning Game from Boston.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—A new world's record for consecutive innings played in three consecutive games by two clubs was established here today when Chicago White Sox and the Washington Senators battled thirteen innings, the latter winning, 2 to 1. Incidentally it was the fourth straight extra innings game played by Chicago, making a total of 89 innings played in six days. On two of the six days, double headers were played. Score:

SOAP IS BAD FOR THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonsful will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

recommend that you use

POSTOFFICE OFFICIALS PROBE THREATENING COMMUNICATIONS

Georgia Officials and Others Receive Anonymous Letters and Postcards.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 25.—Postoffice officials announced here tonight that an investigation was being made of anonymous threatening communications received by officials and others from different parts of the country in connection with the lynching of Lee M. Frank.

Governor Harris, former Governor John M. Slaton, who commuted Frank's death sentence to life imprisonment, Mayor Woodward of Atlanta; Josiah Carter, editor of the Marietta, Ga., Journal and Recorder; and Herbert Haas of Atlanta, one of Frank's attorneys, are among those to whom letters and postcards have been sent.

R. E. Barry, local postoffice inspector, said that some of the communications threatened the recipients unless members of the mob were punished, while others warned against any effort to arrest the lynchers. Failure to comply, some of the letters said, would result in death for the offenders.

BOARD OF HEALTH GIVES TYPHOID FEVER WARNING

Bulletin Calls Attention to Need of Preventive Measures—Following of Simple Rules All That Is Necessary.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 26.—The presence of approximately 1,200 cases of typhoid fever in Illinois, resulted in the issuing today of a bulletin on the situation by Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the state board of health.

"Typhoid fever the filthiest of all diseases, the great American curse, bids fair to reap a big harvest in Illinois during the next three months," says Dr. Drake in the bulletin. "Only immediate and intelligent application of preventive measures can hold the prevalence of the disease to its usual autumnal proportion, which, at the smallest, is much too great.

"Typhoid fever prevalence depends upon unsanitary conditions in respect of disposal of human excreta. Improper disposal is the cause of new infections and development of the disease is proof positive that the victim had taken into his mouth something which has been polluted. Typhoid infections take place in no other way.

"We take the infection into our mouths with contaminated milk, foods or water, or from contaminated fingers. Milk and foods become contaminated by flies, fingers, or water; by flies which have been feasting on typhoid discharges prior to their contact with the milk or foods, by fingers which have not been washed after handling the patient and before handling the foods; by water which has been polluted with the discharge of a typhoid subject and which subsequently is used to wash or sprinkle fruits or vegetables or wash the dishes on which food is served. Contaminated fingers and polluted water often are the direct source of infection.

"The spread of typhoid fever can be prevented by strict adherence to the following simple procedures:

"By proper handling of a typhoid subject and control of the attendants according to the rules laid down by the state board of health; by disposing of human excreta in a cleanly way, so that this dangerous matter may not be spread about and conveyed, directly or indirectly, to human mouths; by protecting against contamination with human excreta; all substances which may reach human mouths, or by treating such substances before they reach human mouths by some process which will kill typhoid germs that may be on or in them; by raising individual resistance to the disease.

Individual resistance to the disease can be best secured through an anti-typhoid vaccination. This simple treatment long past the experimental stage, has proven highly effective in establishing an immunity to typhoid. The state board of health furnished the anti-typhoid vaccine free. Any physician can secure it at one of the numerous distributing stations which have been established throughout the state by the state board of health."

Anti-typhoid vaccination must not be regarded as a substitute for sanitation nor shall it be taken as an excuse to relax the rules which have been promulgated by the state board of health for the control of this disease.

"This country is thirty years—a generation—behind the most progressive European countries in the eradication of preventable diseases. Our street rate is five times as high as that of England, Germany and France."

You Would Like to Have That Steak Cooked Just Right? Indeed You Would

Think how difficult it is for the cook to perform such a feat after having wrestled with the coal pail, dirt, soot, smoke, and uncontrollable fire and an unsightly kitchen range.

The preparation of a perfectly delicious steak or any other cooked, baked, boiled or broiled article of food, on the new gas range is another trick entirely. The fire is just right, just where you want it and when you want it, and perfectly controllable and not accompanied with any of the above objectionable features.

You Will Want to Save On Your Coal Bills This Winter

No doubt you will. Coal is going to be higher this winter than ever before. The inevitable coal strike should be prepared for now. You can operate a gas range for one-half the amount that will be necessary to buy coal for a coal range at even the present price of coal and the cost of a gas range is a great deal less than that of a coal range.

You Have Decided to Buy a Gas Stove if You Can Find a Good One at a Reasonable Price

That is just what I am getting at. For the remainder of this week—TODAY and SATURDAY—we will make prices on Gas Stoves that will startle you.

We have our show room full of a variety of styles and makes and will be glad to quote rock bottom prices during these three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Come in and see us.

RELATIVES DO NOT DOUBT THAT GEORGE ZEPHENFIELD IS ALIVE

Fred Zeppenfield Heard Several Days Ago That His Nephew Was Living — Former Associate in Peoria Met Youth in Chicago on August 6.

That George Zeppenfield, who was thought to have committed suicide in Rockford, about June 24, is alive is not now doubted. Fred Zeppenfield, uncle of the supposed suicide, said last night that he heard that his nephew was alive several days ago. His first knowledge was received when Edward Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Miller of West Morton avenue, wrote that young Zeppenfield had been seen in Chicago. Mr. Zeppenfield took the matter up and got the name of the person who had seen him. This was R. T. Waldeck of Peoria. Waldeck is employed by a piano house in Peoria as a piano tuner. Zeppenfield had worked for the Kimball people in Peoria and Waldeck had known him well. The date on which he saw him was August 6th. In reply to Mr. Zeppenfield's inquiry Waldeck wrote the following letter:

Meets Youth in Kimball Store.
"Peoria, Ill., Aug. 18, 1915.
"Mr. Fred Zeppenfield,
"Jacksonville, Ill.
"Dear Sir:

"Your letter of the 17th at hand. Regarding George, I am afraid I cannot give you very much information; other than I saw and spoke to him. On August 6th, I was in the Kimball store in Chicago and talking to an old friend when George came in. You might know I was greatly surprised. He said, 'Hello, Ted,' and shook hands with me. I said, 'Well this beats me, I thought you committed suicide.' He was surprised and said there was a young fellow committed suicide the day he left Rockford. He made inquiries about Mr. Hale and the boys at the store in Peoria. He told me he came from St. Paul with some cattle and got laid off.

"He was going down to see Mr. C. E. Tucker, a vocal teacher in the Auditorium building, Chicago. Mr. Tucker used to come to Peoria to teach and that was the way George came to know him. He said there was nothing doing in Chicago and he was going to pull out.

"He had on a purple suit and a fedora hat, the same that he wore in Peoria. When I was leaving him he told me to tell the boys in Peoria that 'I am not a dead one.' That was the substance of our conversation. "I did not know anything about the supposed suicide until my wife read it to me and I thought possibly the county buried him. Had I known that his father went to Rockford and brought his remains to Jacksonville for burial, I certainly would have told George and have him write to the folks at once.

"I think if you would write to Mr. C. F. Tucker vocal teacher, Auditorium building, Chicago, Ill., he would probably tell you the same thing, providing George saw him. That is where he said he was going when he left me.

"There is absolutely no doubt about it. George is alive unless he died since I saw him August 6th. The boys thought at first that I was probably mistaken but I would bet my life on it, and they think as I know, that you buried a stranger. Am sorry I cannot give you more detailed information, but if I can be of service to you in any way, command me.

"Respectfully,

"R. T. Waldeck."

Notifies Insurance Company.
Immediately upon receipt of the above letter Fred Zeppelin sent it to the boy's father, Henry Zeppelin at St. Charles. The boy's father wrote back and asked Mr. Zeppenfield to notify the Prudential Insurance company, in which young Zeppelin had three small policies, that the boy was alive.

There is more than passing mystery in the case. It does not seem possible that two men could be so much alike that a father would be mistaken. Yet Mr. Zeppenfield identified the body as that of his son. After the suicide the body was not taken care of for four days and when Mr. Zeppenfield arrived in Rockford it was in bad condition. At first he was not sure of it being his son's body but he made a second examination and came to the conclusion that it was his son.

When the remains arrived here they were seen by Fred Zeppelin, the boy's uncle, and also by Mrs. Charles Jackson. It seems that the boy, after his mother's death, took his meals for two years at the Jackson home. Mrs. Jackson had known the boy since birth. She also identified the body as that of George Zeppenfield. Fred Zeppenfield said that the only thing different he noticed about the body was that the nose did not seem to be the right shape. He and Mrs. Jackson looked at the face through the glass in the casket lid.

Help Three Small Policies.
Zeppenfield held three small policies amounting with accrued interest, to about five hundred dollars. These policies were paid on the proof of death as furnished by those who had known the boy well. J. M. Carroll had asked the agents to go to the house and view the remains but they said it was not necessary if some one identified them who had known him well.

Henry Zeppenfield, when he brought the remains back from Rockford, was compelled on account of the condition of the body to purchase a copper lined casket. He had been put to expense of about $300, and probably will lose the entire amount. The purple suit which young Zeppenfield wore which was referred to by Waldeck in his letter is one that he had when he left Jacksonville. His father when he returned to St.

Charles took the vest to the suit, which had been left at home, with him. The valise in the room of the Jarvis Inn, where Zeppenfield registered at Rockford had his collars in it. It is presumed that he was unable to pay for his room so left the valise. His father and uncle are anxious to see him and learn how some of his effects came to be in the possession of the suicide.

MISS INEZ SAWYER WEDS MR. EMMETT BIDDLE

Ceremony Took Place at the Home Formerly a Student Here While Residing at Bluffs.

Miss Inez Sawyer, a former resident of Bluffs and Mr. Emmett Biddle were married recently in Decatur. The bride was a student in Jacksonville for some time and she has many friends here and in Scott county.

The Decatur Herald in speaking of the wedding says:

"Miss Inez Sawyer, daughter of Mrs. Myrtle Sawyer, 438 Powers Lane, and Emmett Biddle, also of Decatur, son of Mrs. Roe, of Keokuk, Iowa, were married Tuesday evening, Aug. 17, at 8:30 o'clock, ev. E. M. Antrim of the First Methodist church performing the ceremony in his home, 701 West Main street. There were no attendants.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for an eastern trip. They will stop at Detroit, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and other points, and will visit Mr. Biddle's mother in Keokuk before returning to Decatur. A home is already furnished in 744 North Mercer street, where they will live after they return.

The bride was married in her traveling suit of blue and wore a draped hat of white satin with facing of black velvet. She has lived in Decatur several months, having moved here with her mother from Bluffs. She is a charming young woman with a wide circle of friends and an accomplished musician.

"She was graduated from a business college in Jacksonville and was formerly stenographer with Marshall Fields, Chicago. Mr. Biddle is a draughtsman for the Wabash and is popular with Wabash men."

STORE CLOSED TILL 8 A.M.

OVER 200 TAKE ADVANTAGE OF CHICAGO EXCURSION

Over 200 people took advantage of the excursion to Chicago last night, via the Alton and Wabash. The length of the stay in Chicago this time induced many to make the trip. Among those going are Misses Jeanette and Margaret Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Graef and daughters Helen and Dorothy, C. J. McFlatton, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Corbridge, Mrs. Jennie Devitt, Clyde Black, Kathryn Kiloran, Miss Louise Guyette, J. K. Long, Miss Hazel Belle Long, W. T. Brown, L. P. ## WITH THE SICK.

Mr. and Mrs. William Benson, of Beardstown, were in the city Thursday visiting their daughter, Mrs. Harry Andell, who is a patient in a hospital.

Mrs. Annie Fairchild is reported ill with typhoid fever at her home 228 West Morton avenue.

Mrs. M. L. Cunningham, of Mound avenue, has recovered sufficiently from the effects of her fall that she was able to be out for a short ride one day this week.

Mrs. John L. Johnson is a patient at Passavant hospital.

Mrs. John Haxton of Arenzville is reported seriously ill.

EXETER BRIDGE MAY NOT BE USED ALL WINTER.

The long bridge at Exeter may not be available for use for the coming winter, according to the following story from the Bluffs Times:

"The recent rains and high water in the Mauvalsterre has put a stop to the work on the Exeter bridge. If this keeps up there will be little hope of using the bridge all winter. It would seem that arrangements could be made to cross the old bridge when the force is not at work there. It is still standing and the only obstruction is the concrete mixer which is blocking the traffic and causing people to detour by Indian Hill. It would seem that when the gang is not at work the bridge could be arranged temporarily for crossing and it certainly would be appreciated by the public. Since the above was put in type the concrete mixer has been removed from the bridge, and the boys in charge signified their willingness to do all they could to accommodate the public, but to keep the bridge open when at work retards progress and is expensive to the contractor."

CHICAGO EXCURSIONISTS.

Mrs. K. Hopper, Palmer Conley, Miss Catherine Walsh and Mrs. Chester Willerton were among those who took the excursion this morning.

4TH QUARTERLY CONFERENCE.
The 4th quarterly conference of Centenary M. E. church has been changed from Aug. 31st to Wednesday, Sept. 1st.

THINKS MAN FOUND IN RIVER IS HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Harriet Plummer Writes Regarding Man Drowned Near Beardstown.

Coroner George Wright received a letter Thursday from Mrs. Harriet Plummer from Davenport, Ia., asking for particulars regarding the death of Harry Mosier. The writer thinks that Mosier was her husband who had deserted her.

Mosier met death by drowning near Beardstown several weeks ago and his body was taken from the water near Meredosia. It was taken to that town and an inquest held by Coroner Wright. He was buried under the name by which he had been known in Peoria and Beardstown.

Mrs. Plummer goes on to state that her husband left her and had been living with another woman. She thinks he changed his name in order that she would not be able to find him. She says that her husband was a sister of Mrs. Walter Shadrick. At the time of his death Mosier was staying on a house boat with Shadrick and his wife and was engaged with Shadrick in fishing for the market. Coroner Wright will send what information he has that was brought out in the evidence at the inquest. According to the story as related at the time that Mosier met his death he had several hundred dollars on deposit in a Peoria bank.

HEARING ON PAVEMENT ASSESSMENT CONTINUES

Railway Company Witnesses Declare
Proposed Betterments on South
Main Street Would Be Detriment to Railroad—Further Effort Made to Introduce Franchise Question.

The hearing of objections by the Jacksonville Railway company to the assessment made against the company for the proposed paving of South Main street between Morton and Michigan avenue occupied the entire time of the county court Thursday, Judge Martin of Cass county presiding. The company placed a number of witnesses on the stand, most of them officers of the Illinois traction system and located in other cities. W. B. Miser, local superintendent for the company, was also a witness.

Mayor Rodgers, E. E. Wells and Charles Thompson testified for the city.

The testimony given by the witnesses for the company and their cross examination occupied the time until four o'clock, when the company's attorneys, Messrs. Bellatti, Bellatti & Moriarity, rested their case. Then John J. Reeve, city attorney, began the taking of testimony in behalf of the city. Witnesses for the company in addition to Supt. Miser were M. L. Harry, general superintendent of the Decatur Railway & Light company; M. G. Lynn, superintendent Bloomington & Normal Railway & Light Co.; J. M. Bosenberry, Peoria, superintendent motive power and equipment Illinois Traction system; Joseph O'Hara, general superintendent Springfield Consolidated Railway company; F. A. Warfield, LaSalle, consulting engineer Illinois Traction system; W. R. Morrison, Peoria, construction superintendent Illinois Traction system.

The trend of the testimony of the company's witnesses was to show that the proposed improvement would be of no benefit to the company. In cross examination several of the witnesses stated that the proposed improvement would not only be no benefit to the company but would be a positive detriment. This statement was based upon the theory that the placing of a concrete foundation under the ties and concrete between the ties would make any future repair work very expensive. Witnesses from the various cities testified as to the type of construction used where they had experience or observation. They indicated that concrete construction is used in some cities and that in others that a cinder foundation has been found to meet requirements.

Mayor Henry J. Rodgers was the first witness on behalf of the city and he testified that in preparing the specifications for the proposed improvement that certain modifications with reference to the foundation for the railway ties were made after consultation with Mr. Miser and Mr. Morrison.

He stated that they had said at that time that the type of foundation work proposed would be the most satisfactory and enduring. He said that this statement was made in connection with the talk that later the company might use the South Main street line to haul coal cars to Jacksonville state hospital.

An effort was made by the attorneys for the company to have Mr. Rodgers state that in his estimate of the justice of the assessment made against the company that he held the belief that the company has a perpetual franchise for the use of the street. The witness declared that he did not assume that the company had a perpetual franchise, but did assume that they had rights there based upon possession and occupancy and upon the fact that they were operating the railroad there as a going concern. He said further that he knew there was no disposition on the part of city officials or the public to attempt to oust the railway from the exercise of such rights. Other witnesses called for the city were E. E. Wells and Charles Thompson.

They are residents of South Main street and testified as to the present condition of the company's track and roadbed on South Main and as to their belief about the benefits to accrue to the company because of the proposed improvement. The hearing will continue this morning when Dr. Bowe will be witness as will a number of South Main street property holders.

REURNED FROM MONTH'S TRIP.

Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Wait returned Thursday evening from a month's vacation which was spent in Texas and Missouri. They first went to Brownsville, Texas, where they visited for several days. They returned to St. Louis and from there went to Macon County, Mo., Dr. Wait's old home, where they spent some time. They report a most delightful trip.

SUFFERED FRACTURED ARM.

Jesse Allen Rimley, the 12 year old son of Brewer Rimley of Murryville, suffered a broken left arm, between the elbow and wrist, as the result of being thrown from a rig Thursday. His horse became frightened at a dog. Dr. Water gave the necessary medical attention.

GOOD MUSICAL ACT.

Manager Johnson of the Grand, has a good musical act for the remainder of the week. The man in the team dresses in imitation of Charlie Chaplin and furnishes lots of fun as well as playing on various instruments. The lady is a fine harpist. The act was well received Thursday.
